The principal objective of the College is to provide diverse opportunities for meaningful and quality liberal education. The College serves both graduate and undergraduate students. It offers a wide variety of majors in the academic disciplines, core courses, as well as balanced programs of study in related disciplines. The College of Liberal Arts prepares students for many kinds of professions and graduate studies; it cooperates with the College of Education and Human Development in offering joint professional and pre-professional studies for teaching majors.

While the long-range goal is that of producing a well-rounded individual--intellectually, spiritually, physically, emotionally, and aesthetically, the College seeks to accomplish this primarily by placing emphasis on intellectual achievement. Regardless of their professional interest, students are expected to become fluent in their own language, literate in at least one foreign language, and to give attention to the physical and life sciences, computer technology, and the fine arts.

It is hoped that such liberal studies will enlarge and augment the student's particular concern in order to produce the resourceful and thinking graduate who has an understanding of self, the past, and the present and who is prepared intellectually and morally for the task of shaping the future.

The College of Liberal Arts offers the following graduate degrees: Doctor of Philosophy in Clinical Psychology; the Master of Arts in Criminology and Justice Services, English, History, Political Science and Sociology; the Master of Arts in Teaching English; the Master of Music Education; the Master of Science in Mass Communications; and the Master of Science in Education with concentrations in several modern foreign languages.

SCHOOL OF COMMUNICATIONS

Departments

- ◆ English and Modern Foreign Languages
- ◆ Mass Communications

The School of Communications is comprised of the Department English and Modern Foreign Languages, the Department of Mass Communications, and the Department of Speech Communication and Theatre. The Department of Mass Communications is fully accredited by the Accrediting Council for Education in Journalism and Mass Communications (ACEJMC).

The Department of English and Modern Foreign Languages has offices on the fourth floor of the Dollye M. E. Robinson Building. It utilizes classrooms in several locations across the campus, including language lab facilities in the Blackburn Language Arts Building.

The Department of Mass Communications is located in the JSU e-center. In addition to faculty and staff offices, the facility includes writing and telecommunications labs and studios. The University also operates a low-power television station, a radio station, and a campus newspaper and several other publications. The faculty includes practicing journalists and features a strong orientation toward media research.

The School of Communications offers several programs of graduate study designed to complement the mission of the College of Liberal Arts and the University. The Department of English and Modern Foreign Languages offers the Master of Arts in English, also available with a concentration in Linguistics; the Master of Arts in Teaching in English; and the Master of Science in Education: Secondary Education, available with concentrations in French, German, or Spanish. The Department of Mass Communications offers the Master of Science in Mass Communications, available with a special concentration in Urban Communications.

Mission

The mission of this department is consistent with that of the University. More specifically, the mission of the department is to provide a general, liberal, and professional education to students in languages, literature, grammar and usage, and composition. To this end, the department offers courses in the Core to the general student population and specialized courses to its majors.

Program Objectives

The graduate program in English is designed

- ◆ To prepare students for advanced programs of study in English and related areas.
- ◆ To prepare well-qualified teachers of English for secondary schools and community colleges.
- ◆ To provide an in-service program for teachers of English who serve in secondary schools and community colleges.
- ◆ To prepare students for careers in the mass media.
- ◆ To prepare for classroom diversity in the sociolinguistics of languages.

Students who are proficient in a modern foreign language may wish to choose electives from among the following courses offered by the Area of Modern Foreign Languages: FR 527, SP 527, GER 527, FR 528, SP 528, GER 528, FR 524, SP 524.

Modern Foreign Languages

Mission

The Area of Modern Foreign Languages offers a multi-faceted program in foreign languages:

1. The Proficiency Advancement Program for secondary teachers of French or Spanish;
2. The Master of Science in Secondary Education degree with a concentration in French or Spanish. (MSEd.)

The design and intent of the concentrations of Modern Foreign Languages at Jackson State University are to offer training and opportunities for persons wishing to further their mastery of foreign language skills.

The Modern Foreign Language Area is furthermore committed to the continued education of para-professionals through the offering of special courses and workshops designed to increase their professional competencies, i.e., the Proficiency Advancement Program.

Accreditation

This Area implements its programs in accordance with the certification requirements of the Mississippi State Department of Education and the standards of the Modern Language Association of America.

Program Objectives

1. To develop an awareness of the commitment to the importance of foreign language learning at all levels of education.
2. To become proficient in the systematic skills inherent in teaching Modern Foreign Languages.
3. To meet teacher certification requirements for the State of Mississippi and other states.
4. To become well-rounded in the related linguistic and humanistic disciplines and their application to the individual, to his profession, and to his society.
5. To interact for the purpose of personal growth with a multi-national faculty representing broad multi-cultural experiences with global perspective.
6. To prepare for advanced degrees.

Proficiency Advancement Program

(for Secondary Teachers of Modern Foreign Languages)

The Proficiency Advancement Program is a 21-hour concentration of courses leading to a Certificate of Proficiency in the Teaching of Modern Foreign Languages. The program is an assemblage of courses on the graduate level meant specifically for those people teaching a foreign language whose foreign training on the undergraduate level is less than that required for a minor. The courses in themselves will not satisfy any requirements for an undergraduate major in that language. The program is basically designed for nondegree students currently engaged in teaching one or more junior high or high school foreign language courses.

Program Objectives

1. To reinforce and implement basic skills already being used in the classroom.
2. To intensify the teacher's speaking skills.
3. To strengthen the teacher's command of grammatical structures.
4. To acquire a knowledge and understanding of the culture.
5. To offer source materials, techniques and activities in every phase of language learning and teaching.

Admission Requirements

To enter the Master of Science in Secondary Education with a concentration in French, Spanish or German, the incoming student must present a B.A. or B.S. degree in the language of concentration or credit hours equivalent to the number of hours required for majors in the above languages.

Dr. A. Chang, Assistant Professor
Dr. A. Dilworth, Assistant Professor
Dr. T. Taylor, Assistant Professor

The Master's degree program in Mass Communications is offered for students who have a desire to develop those skills and attributes necessary for participation as media practitioners in the areas of News Editorial, Public Relations, Advertising, Broadcast Journalism or Production, and the concentration in Urban Communication. As the urban university of Mississippi, Jackson State University's Mass Communications program is uniquely positioned to provide graduate students working in the metropolitan area with late afternoon and evening courses tailored to meet professional requirements.

Program Objectives

1. To aid students in developing a philosophical framework for understanding the communications process and its societal impact.
2. To guide students toward in-depth research and advanced investigative journalism techniques.
3. To assist students in enhancing writing and analytical skills.
4. To educate and train students for professions related to mass communications.
5. To provide hands-on experience in utilizing state-of-the-art technologies.
6. To utilize the critical thinking approach in problem solving, and in the dissemination of information on controversial issues.

Admissions Requirements

Applicants for the Master of Science degree must present a satisfactory score on the Graduate Record Examination or present a minimum grade point average of 3.0. Conditional admission requirements to the Master's program involve a satisfactory GRE score or a grade point average of at least 2.5. A TOEFL score is required also for international students.

Upon admission the student should arrange for an interview with the chairperson of the Department of Mass Communications who will assign a permanent adviser.

Prerequisites for Applicants with a B.A., or B.S. degree in Mass Communications include taking an elementary statistics course unless the student has earned a grade "C" or above in a previous statistics course. If the student takes a graduate course in statistics, it will count in the 15 hours of electives. No credit will be given for undergraduate hours earned in Elementary Statistics.

Degree Requirements

The Master of Science degree in Mass Communications requires a minimum of thirty (30) semester hours of acceptable graduate credit with at least twenty-one to twenty-four (21-24) hours earned from Jackson State University. A thesis or non-thesis option is elected by the student. A creative research project such as a documentary, a series of videotaped public affairs programs, or a series of investigative reports, etc. is required of all students who select the non-thesis option. A final examination is required on all graduate work, including the thesis/creative project as applicable. A committee will be convened once the thesis or the creative research project is selected and the Graduate Comprehensive Examination is passed. This committee will advise the student and assess the final product.

The thesis and non-thesis tracks in Mass Communications require the following core courses:

SCHOOL OF FINE AND PERFORMING ARTS

Department

◆ Music

The School of Fine and Performing Arts is currently comprised of the Department of Music and the Department of Art.

The Department of Music is committed to providing high quality educational opportunities in music education, performance, and technology, enabling students to develop the skills required to assume leadership roles in music education, the music industry, and supporting fields. The Department of Music offers courses and performance opportunities which broaden the musical education in the liberal arts tradition and provide artistic enrichment for students, faculty, the community, state and nation.

To this end, and in alignment with the mission of the university as a whole, the Department of Music resolves to:

- Sustain an environment which is supportive and stimulating for students and faculty, and which challenges them to explore exciting new ideas and reach their highest potential
- Provide competitive, accredited, undergraduate and graduate degree programs in music education and performance
- Engage music majors and non-music majors alike in opportunities to develop their
- knowledge, understanding, and ability in all aspects of music
- Inspire students and faculty to participate globally in culturally enriching activities

The Department is located in F.D. Hall Music Center, and houses a recital hall, various rehearsal facilities, digital recording studio, and an electronic music technology lab. Throughout the academic year the Department of Music features numerous performances by its ensemble groups, which include the "Sonic Boom of the South" Marching Band. Our accomplished faculty includes world class educators, instrumentalists and vocalists who regularly perform, record and present at conferences.

The Department of Music in the School of Fine and Performing Arts includes a graduate program designed to complement the mission of the College of Liberal Arts and the University. The Master of Music Education is a multi-faceted program with several emphases designed to provide a comprehensive music education.

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL AND BEHAVIORAL SCIENCES

Departments

- ◆ Criminal Justice and Sociology
- ◆ History and Philosophy
- ◆ Political Science
- ◆ Psychology

The School of Social and Behavioral Sciences consists of leaders in graduate education at Jackson State University. Academic units comprising the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences are the Department of Criminal Justice and Sociology, the Department of History and Philosophy, the Department of Political Science, and the Department of Psychology.

In addition to the four academic units shown above, students and faculty participate in several interdisciplinary research and citizenship programs - - two centers, the Margaret Walker Alexander National Research Center for the Study of the Twentieth Century African American, spawned from the Department of History; the Alcohol and Drug Studies Center; whose genesis was the Department of Sociology; a planned program of research for the Department of Psychology, the Community Health Program (CHP) and a Clinical Psychology Services Program; and the Fannie Lou Hammer National Institute on Citizenship and Democracy, which grew out of more than a quarter of a century of activity by the faculty of the Department of Political Science.

The aforementioned four units, their programs of teaching, research and service, attract a substantively diverse and international faculty and student body. All graduate programs in the social and behavioral sciences maintain an optimal student enrollment and provide excellent mentoring by core faculty with combined research and practioner experiences in traditional academic specializations and public service roles. Graduate students are expected to meet with their mentors many times during the course of the academic year and are encouraged to begin research projects with their mentor the summer preceding their admission. Graduate coursework, preliminary examinations, qualifying examinations, internships, thesis and/or major papers, and dissertation preparation, are the major components of the graduate programs in the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences. The College of Liberal Arts's only doctoral program - Clinical Psychology - has an excellent teaching faculty with planned programs of clinical research. The social and behavioral sciences have engaged teaching faculty with quality research publications. The School of Social and Behavioral Sciences generates large sums of external funds to support graduate student fellowships, foster research opportunities that advance student's careers, generate new knowledge/discoveries in collaboration with graduate students.

The School of Social and Behavioral Sciences offers the Doctor of Philosophy in Clinical Psychology; the Master of Arts in Criminal Justice and Justice Services, History, Political Science, and Sociology.

Program of Criminology and Justice Services

The Master of Arts degree in Criminology and Justice Services is designed to create a cadre of education and policy makers in the area of Criminal Justice. The primary focus of the program is on providing a strong theoretical and methodological foundation for those individuals desiring to restructure and plan for change in the contemporary justice system. The student is expected to demonstrate knowledge of the key theories as well as critical theoretical crime and justice perspectives within the progression of the humanistic spectrum. The curriculum includes significant strategies, issues and themes on the dimensions of planned change throughout the justice system.

Program Objectives

- ◆ To prepare students for studies beyond the master degree focusing on planned change.
- ◆ To provide studies in theory, analysis of varied criminal justice systems, management and research sufficient to prepare students for career development in the field.
- ◆ To provide courses to enhance the performance and employment potential of individuals in criminal justice agencies.

Admission Requirements

Students must meet all admission, testing and graduation requirements of the Graduate School at Jackson State University. Students must submit a satisfactory score on the Graduate Record Examination, GRE, three letters of recommendation and a statement of purpose.

Sociology Program

The Sociology program offers the Master of Arts Degree in Sociology and the Master of Arts Degree in Sociology with emphasis in Alcohol and Drug Studies. The Alcohol/Drugs Program is a member of Alcohol and Drugs Problems of America.

Mission

The missions of the department is to provide learning experiences that will enable the sociology student to analyze, synthesize, and evaluate sociological concepts and research. Marketable skills such as effective written and oral communication, problem solving, and familiarity with quantitative and qualitative methodologies will be emphasized. Students will learn to use their sociological imagination to study emerging social issues such as globalization and modernization. Students will these skills are highly sought after in various parts of the labor market such as social service agencies, correctional systems and research institutions. The M.A. program is also designed to provide adequate training to pursue a doctoral program at other universities. The M.A. in Sociology with Emphasis in Alcohol and Drug Studies Program is designed to develop a manpower pool for service delivery in the human services profession with emphasis on the training of alcohol and drug counselors. This program also provides planning, management and public information expertise to the general public. Specialists in the field of substance abuse and human services engaged in the applied research develop and test theories on the nature and extent of alcohol and drug abuse problems.

Program Objectives

The purposes and intent of the graduate programs in Sociology are careers and human services oriented. As such, the objectives are to:

- ◆ Use the social scientific approach to study problems and locate possible solutions.

- ◆ Provide ample opportunities for students to write and present research from a sociological perspective.
- ◆ Challenge students to analyze, synthesize, and evaluate sociological concepts and theories.
- ◆ Familiarize students about quantitative, qualitative and mixed-method approaches.
- ◆ Prepare teachers for community colleges or further graduate studies.
- ◆ Prepare counselors for Alcohol and Drug abuse centers and programs.

Admission Requirements

The program for the Master of Arts Degree in Sociology is open to those who have completed the Bachelor of Arts Degree in Sociology or its equivalent from an accredited institution. All applicants are required to submit a satisfactory score on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE), three letters of recommendation and a statement of purpose.

Applicants will only be admitted once a year during the Fall Semester.

Degree Requirements

The Department offers two degree options at the Masters' level, THESIS and NON-THESIS.

1. The History Department offers both the thesis and non-thesis options for the Master of Arts Degree. The areas of concentration for the degree include: American, African-American, Global, African, and Public History and Oral History.

Mission Statement

The Department of History and Philosophy offers students the opportunity to pursue a course of study that prepares them to enter a range of professional paths and careers. These potential careers include teaching from elementary to high school to junior college to the four year university. Additional professional forays are possible in research and scholarship enterprises, public and leadership service and a welter of other pursuits, all requiring a demonstrated knowledge, appreciation and application of the human historical experience in response to an everchanging multi-cultural world.

The graduate History program's area of concentration include American, African-American, Asian, African, Latin American, Public, Women's and Disability History. In the areas of African-American, African Women's, Public and Disability History, the department has an especially impressive curriculum as well as an assembled coterie of talented teaching-research faculty.

Program Objectives

1. To use classroom instruction and relevant professional experiences, thereby, preparing majors to conduct historical research while acquiring the requisite knowledge, competencies and mastery essential to a history discipline concentration in a general liberal arts education.
2. To prepare students to either continue graduate study beyond the Master of Arts degree and/or engage in history related professional careers.
3. To prepare students to teach history in elementary and secondary schools and at the junior college level.
4. To serve the instructional needs of teachers, principals, and supervisors as required to maintain or improve their current teaching or leadership status.

5. To promote the scholarly study and investigation of the human historical experience as well as the dissemination of such research via both presentations at professional conferences and publication the disciplines.

Admission Requirements

1. Satisfying all admission requirements of the Division of Graduate Studies.
2. Completing a Personal Statement.
3. Application packet for the Graduate History Program.
4. Submitting a satisfactory score on the Graduate Record Examination, GRE.

Transfer of Credits

Up to nine semester hours of credits in significantly related courses may be accepted toward the M.A. Degree in History. The earned credits must be from a graduate history program at an accredited institution of higher learning.

Degree Requirements

1. Required Courses - History 545, Historical Criticism and Historiography; History 546, Historical Research.
2. Required number of hours for thesis option: 30; for non-thesis option: 36.
3. An M.A. student must complete a thesis within two years after passing the Graduate Comprehensive Examination.
4. A written Comprehensive Examination is required for completion of the M.A. degree in history. The written examination is given at the time designed by the Graduate School.
5. All M.A. students in history are required to pass a foreign language examination, usually via a written examination. If, however, a student has taken and passed the first year sequence of a foreign language (101, 102) as an undergraduate and averaged a grade of "B" or better, the examination is usually waived. Additionally, specified course(s) in computer science may be used to satisfy the foreign language requirement. If one chooses this option, it must be agreed upon by both the student's advisor and the Department Chair. All candidates must satisfy the language requirement before graduation.
6. A student who has demonstrated some academic deficiencies and is provisionally admitted to the graduate program may be asked to take an undergraduate course(s) or to enroll in a structured remedial program. In this way, the Department increases the likelihood of the student successfully completing the program and receiving the Master of Arts degree.
7. After completing all class requirements for the degree, M.A. candidates who opted for a thesis option must register for History 590- "Thesis". Thesis degree candidates must initially complete six (6) hours of History 590. If the thesis is not completed after the initial six hours, a student will need to register for one (1) hour of History 590 until all degree requirements have been satisfied. Non-thesis candidates instead of a thesis are required to complete a written research project. Until the project is completed and approved by the student's project committee he/she is required to be registered for one (1) hour of History 590. A non-thesis M.A. candidate must complete the project within one year of completing the required course work.

The Department of Political Science offers a graduate program leading to the Master of Arts in Political Science. Students may take the thesis or non-thesis routes to the M.A. degree.

Mission Statement

The Department of Political Science prepares students for careers in teaching, scholarship, research and public service, as well as for critical citizenship. Designed to train political scientists, the department's graduate program facilitates advanced study and inquiry of the approaches, philosophical underpinnings, methodologies and practical implications of political science.

The graduate program's offerings are divided into general areas of research methods, American and African-American politics, comparative politics emphasizing Africa, international relations and political philosophy. The department is particularly strong in the field of African-American politics.

Program Objectives

The broad objectives of the Master of Arts program are:

- ◆ To prepare students to successfully pursue graduate work at the doctoral level;
- ◆ To develop students' research capacities and skills, which make possible critical analysis of policy and politics;
- ◆ To prepare students for and enhance their marketability in the worlds of work-public, private and non-profit sectors;
- ◆ To assist primary and secondary schools in teaching the processes and values of critical citizenship.

Admission Requirements

Prospective students must satisfy the requirements for admission to the Division of Graduate Studies. The Department of Political Science requires the submission of a statement of purpose.

Requirement for Degree Candidacy

The comprehensive examination and completion of the required political science courses are required for a student to be admitted to candidacy for the M.A. in Political Science. The comprehensive examination consists of written essay questions in three fields of political science. It should be taken and passed by the end of the second year.

Retention Requirement

A minimum grade point average of 3.00 (on a 4.00 scale) on graduate work earned in the degree program is required.

Degree Requirements

The Department offers two routes to the M.A. in Political Science: the thesis route and non-thesis route. Ideally suited for students who will eventually pursue a doctorate, the thesis route requires a minimum of thirty semester hours of coursework and six credits of thesis culminating in the writing and defense of a thesis. The non-thesis route requires the completion of a minimum of thirty-six semester hours of coursework and the submission of a significant research paper.

All students must successfully complete the following and maintain an overall 3.00 GPA (on a 4.00 scale) in order to earn the M.A. degree in Political Science.

1. Complete 15 hours of required courses, (see below).
2. Take and pass the Graduate English Competency Examination.
3. Take and pass the Graduate Area Comprehensive Examination in three fields.

Students pursuing the thesis option must also complete the following requirements.

1. Complete at least fifteen (15) hours of electives in consultation with the major advisor.
2. Write and defend orally a masters' thesis.

Students pursuing the non-thesis option must also complete the following requirements.

1. Complete at least twenty-one (21) hours of electives in consultation with the major advisor.
2. Write and submit a significant research paper.

Program Objectives and Mission

The Department of Psychology offers a Ph.D. degree in Clinical Psychology. The mission of the doctoral program is:

1. To produce highly skilled, license eligible graduates who can function as both scientists and clinicians.
2. To increase the awareness, knowledge, and skills of students, faculty, and professionals in the area of multicultural psychology.
3. To support the progress of graduate students from diverse racial and ethnic backgrounds as well as immersing traditional graduate students in multicultural experiences within the community.
4. To provide field experiences designed to meet the diverse psychological, health, and service needs of ethnic minority populations.

Individuals aspiring to obtain a Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology should be aware that the faculty, supervisors, and administrators have a professional, ethical, and potentially legal obligation to ensure that the students who complete this program are competent to manage future relationships (e.g., client, collegial, consulting, professional, public, scholarly, supervisory, teaching) in an ethical, effective, and appropriate manner. Because of this commitment, and with the parameters of the administrative authority, the Program Faculty, training staff, supervisors, and administrators strive only to admit, advance, graduate, or recommend student-trainees without demonstrable problems (e.g., cognitive, emotional, psychological, interpersonal, technical, and ethical) that may interfere with professional competence to other programs, the profession, employers, or the public-at-large.

Participants in this program will be guided by a curriculum anchored in the cumulative body of psychological knowledge with a firm basis in statistics, research design, and experimental methodology. The program develops in the student, the knowledge and skills required for effective functioning as an empirically-oriented clinical psychologist in diverse settings. This is accomplished through a sequence of formal clinical courses, distinguished by in-depth exploration of multicultural issues and exposure to ethnic minority communities, including interdisciplinary and inter-organizational collaboration and consultation.

The process through which this mission will be accomplished is consistent with the goals and mission of Jackson State University as a comprehensive university. An essential part of the program is students and faculty who are committed to multicultural issues and who are comfortable with objective assessment and systematic intervention on both individual and community levels. The department strives to support students and faculty involved in basic and applied research, while providing a challenging intellectual environment.

Accreditation

The program is fully accredited by the American Psychological Association. If you have questions about the graduate program's accreditation status or the accreditation process feel free to contact the responsible APA Office in writing or by Telephone:

Admission Requirements

A major goal of our program is retention and graduation of admitted applicants who have the educational foundation, motivation, and personality characteristics required to successfully complete an intensive and rigorous doctoral program. Applicants who have passed the initial screening are required to participate in a personal interview conducted by the Doctoral Admissions Committee, interested faculty, and currently enrolled doctoral students. Admission is, of necessity, competitive. A limited number of slots (6 to 8) are available annually with entry in the fall semester only. Because of the competitive nature of the process, meeting minimal standards does not guarantee admission.

The minimum requirement for admission is a Bachelor's degree from an accredited institution with at least 24 semester hours of psychology coursework in these psychology subject domains: abnormal, developmental, experimental or research methods, learning or cognition, biological or physiological, personality, social, and statistics.

1. The applicant must provide official transcripts of all post-secondary academic work sent from institutions directly to the Clinical Psychology Admissions Committee.

2. The applicant must provide an official copy of the GRE test scores sent from ETS directly to the Admissions Committee. The program does not use specific GRE cut-off scores in the admission process, however, submission of GRE scores prior to the application deadline is required. The GRE subject test in Psychology is also required.
3. A completed and signed "Informed Consent to Participate in the Admissions Screening, Evaluation and Interview Process" form and the "Clinical Psychology Doctoral Program Application."
4. A vita or resume must be submitted to the Admissions Committee.
5. Three letters of recommendation from individuals qualified to assess the applicant's academic and professional potential must be submitted directly to the Admissions Committee. A minimum of two letters must be written by faculty members or faculty mentors familiar with your academic performance; the third letter may be written by qualified mentors who have supervised previous clinical or research work. Please send no more than four letters. All letters must be typed and accompanied by the "Clinical Psychology Evaluation and Recommendation Form."
6. An acceptable score of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) must be submitted, if applicable.

The following application materials and other related information are available for download at www.jsums.edu/psycdept/gradapply/index.htm:

- a. Clinical Psychology Doctoral Program Application;
- b. Clinical Psychology Recommendation and Evaluation Form;
- c. Clinical Psychology Assistantship Application;
- d. Clinical Psychology Program Brochure, and;
- e. Disclosure of Education and Training Outcomes Statement.

Using all admission data (applicant files, other publicly available documents and interview data) the Clinical Admissions Committee evaluates the prospective doctoral applicant along the following domains:

1. Academic aptitude for doctoral-level studies;
2. Understanding and appreciation of diversity issues;
3. Understanding and appreciation of the program's requirements;
4. Previous professional or training experience in a clinical setting;
5. Previous research experience and dissemination history;
6. Psychological suitability to perform as a Clinical Psychologist;
7. Verbal communication skills;
8. Interpersonal relations skills;
9. Professional demeanor;
10. Evidence indicating a situation where admission to the program places the applicant or program faculty at risk for conflict with the Ethical Principles of Psychologist and Code of Conduct (APA, 2002);

11. If necessary, additional clarification of issues observed in the application materials.

Criminal background checks are not currently required as part of the admission process to the Clinical Psychology Program at Jackson State University. However, all applicants should be aware that the various agencies that provide practicum, externship and pre-doctoral internship training opportunities may require a criminal background prior to placement. These agencies are external to the University and may set or revise placement policies at any time; a background check which reveals professional misconduct or a criminal conviction could result in a student's ineligibility for initial or continuing enrollment in clinical training courses. The Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology cannot be completed without the successful completion of all coursework.

Readmission to the Program

Inactive and/or former students of the program must consult with the Director of Clinical Training regarding current policies regarding readmission.

Transfer Credits

For students with previous graduate coursework in psychology, a maximum of 15 credit hours (typically the equivalent to five courses that are three semester hours each) may be transferred provided that the coursework has been completed within eight years of the first enrollment with a grade of "B" or better. Any course transferred must be equivalent to 500 or 600 level courses at Jackson State University and should include coverage of pertinent multicultural issues commensurate with the program's focus and expectations.

Program policy is to allow up to two of these courses to be transferred as satisfying specific course requirements listed under the General Core or Research Core. No more than one of these courses to be transferred as satisfying specific course requirements listed under the Multicultural/Diversity Core. Any remaining courses (no more than two) can be transferred as satisfying elective requirements. Any transfer courses to be considered as satisfying General Core, Research Core, or Multicultural Core requirements must have PSY or equivalent prefix. Equivalent coursework for the Clinical Core are not accepted for transfer credit.

Degree Requirements

The Ph.D. program is a full-time, on campus program typically requiring a minimum of five years of post-baccalaureate study, including the completion of Dissertation Research and a one-year, full-time predoctoral Clinical Internship. This five-year minimum may be shortened under certain circumstances, but in all cases a minimum residency requirement of three years must be met. Some courses will only be offered during summer sessions. A student is expected to complete all requirements for the Ph.D. degree and graduate within eight years of the date of first registration. (At present the Department does not offer a Master's degree.)

The Ph.D. program requires 18 hours of General Core Courses, 16 hours of Research Core Courses, 23 hours of Clinical Core Courses, 9 hours of Multicultural/Diversity Core Courses, 20 hours of Practica and Externship Courses, 9 hours of Elective Courses, 9 hours of Dissertation Credit, and a one-year internship at an APA-accredited/APPIC-member pre-doctoral training program (during which the student registers for at least 2 hours of Internship Credit).

During the third year of study, the student must pass a written qualifying examination. The student must pass this examination to be admitted to candidacy for the Ph.D. The student must also pass an oral clinical-competency examination and defend their dissertation proposal before applying for a pre-doctoral internship position.

For a detailed explanation of program requirements consult the Department's Policies and Procedures Handbook.
